GENEVA, Oct. 7.—The League of Nations council today approved the application of sanctions against the Italian government, which it outlawed as aggressor in its war against Ethiopia.

GENEVA, Oct. 7.—Members of the League of Nations Council, sitting secretly, and privately, today rejected an Italian request that the council postpone a public session scheduled for later in the day.

In the public session the council was slated to approve and adopt the reports of its committees of six and thirteen, naming the Italian government aggressor against Ethiopia and paving the way for application of sanctions against it.

Mussolini Seeking Compromise
Geneva, Oct. 7.—In an apparent eleventh-hour attempt to prevent the League of Nations from applying sanctions against Italy, Premier Benito Mussolini today was reported to have offered conditionally to call off his war against Ethiopia.

In the dramatic move staged just as the league machinery was beginning to roll swiftly against him, Il Duce was reported to have informed Premier Pierre Laval of France

PA NEW OBSERVES

Unless the weather warms up considerably later in the month, October will go down on the record books as a cold one. A year ago at this time, the days were extremely warm, the temperature standing over 70 for a number of days in succession. Frost has occurred this month on the last five days, and the days have been extremely cool.

First snow flurries of the season were reported in this district on Sunday. The snow was light, but it was evidence, Pa Newc is informed.

Curfew whistle will be sounded to-night at nine o'clock, as a start of the regular nightly program of enforcement of the curfew regulations by the police. Boys and girls under sixteen years of age are affected.

Freezing temperatures and frost of the past week, have about ended the flower gardens for the year. While some effort was made by some flower garden owners to save their plants for a few nights, the continued frosts have about nullified their efforts.

Believe it or not, but it snowed yesterday. Just at noon, hard pellets of snow fell from a few fleecy clouds which were scattered about the sky overhead. Local golfers who played in Pittsburgh yesterday reported that quite a heavy squall of snow was noted in Pittsburgh during the afternoon.

WITH THE ITALIAN ARMY IN ETHIOPIA (by courier to field headquarters, Via Asmara to Rome) Oct. 6. (6:30 p. m.)—Italian vindicta!

Italian troops occupy Adowa!

The royal standard of Italy flies victoriously over Northern Abyssinia's largest town.

The sacred memory of 6,000 of Italy's sons, killed, captured, or mutilated at Adowa by Ethiopians has been assuaged by fulfillment of a national vendetta sworn by Italy 39 years ago.

Premier Mussolini's two sons, Vittorio and Bruno, and son-in-law, Count Ciano, dipped their wings today in aerial salute above the town when enthusiastic Italian troops marched through the main street and raised the red, white, and green flag over the governor's palace after a three-day world-rocking invasion of Ethiopia.

Winter Preview Hits District

First Snowfall Of Year Is Reported In Western Pennsylvania

WARMER WEATHER IS NOW FORECAST

(International News Service)
A hint of what to expect this winter was in the air today—on the heels of the season's coldest temperatures to date and the first snowfall of the year.

The first real cold snap engulfed all Pennsylvania during the early hours of the morning, but the chill weather particularly embraced the western areas.

In the outlying Pittsburgh districts, thermometers dropped to 32 degrees, while in the city it was only one degree higher. A variety of snow, not quite white and fluffy but nevertheless snow, fell in several scattered sections.

Light Snow Falls
Brought in on a biting wind, the blanket of close-to-white that was left was slushy and soon melted away. It was the earliest fall of snow Pittsburgh has experienced since 1895.

In the central and eastern areas of the state, temperatures were somewhat higher than in the western regions, but in both sections new lows for the season were recorded. At Harrisburg and Philadelphia lowest thermometer recordings were at 39 degrees early in the morning.

Clear and warmer weather later in the day was the general forecast.

DETROIT, Oct. 7.—Shivering both from the cold and with the sense of excitement that the climax of a world series brings, another roistering crowd of 48,000 began their mobilization movement this morning for the sixth game of the baseball's big event at Navin Field this afternoon.

For resident rooters, the occasion represented the pay-off for their Tigers who can win the series today by taking this game behind the pitching of their top man, Tommy Bridges.

For the Cubs, it meant a chance to declare themselves in a fighting tie, with three victories for each club.

Bridges Won Second Game

Bridges won the second game of the series and has led an almost cloistered existence since then. Manager Mickey Cochrane wishing to give the young man as much rest as his rather fragile frame demands, French pitched a few innings in relief during the third game in Chicago, being hit for the winning run in the eleventh. This pair alone has enjoyed any measure of repose, the remainder of both clubs having been in and out of the bull pen and box with great frequency as this wild series mounted toward its apex.

In winning yesterday's fifth game 3 to 1, the Cubs had to use two pitchers, including Lon Warneke, their star, who injured his shoulder and being forced to withdraw at the start of the seventh inning. At this point it would seem to have eliminated Warneke from a seventh and final game.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—A vitally important question developed today in connection with President Roosevelt's neutrality declarations withdrawing all protection from Americans who travel on Italian ships or engage in any transactions with Italy or Ethiopia.

That question was whether the insurance companies of Americans who traveled on Italian ships or engaged in any transactions with the belligerents would prove valid.

U. S. Neutrality Move Pleasing To Britain

(International News Service)

LONDON, Oct. 7.—Praise for President Roosevelt's neutrality proclamations as implying at least passive support of League of Nations actions against Italy was voiced in official quarters today as Britain entered another week of intense political activity that may bring major decisions at Wednesday's cabinet meeting.

Decisions of the league council at Geneva today; probably rejection of Premier Mussolini's bid for mutual withdrawal of "precautionary measures" in the Mediterranean; the possibility of a general election in November to seek the country's endorsement policies; and discussion of opening arms export channels to Ethiopia are on the cabinet's agenda.

President Roosevelt's arms embargo, and warnings that Americans who trade with the belligerents or sail on their ships "do so at their own risk" were viewed as easing the task of the league.

"President Roosevelt's proclamation is in fine contrast to the hesitations of Geneva," said the Daily Herald.

The Times said: "The action of the United States is only another example of how Italy, by defiance of world opinion and consequent repercussions to her trade and credit, is imposing 'sanctions' on herself."

Name Haufler As Candidate

Democrats Select Nominee For Vacancy Caused By Capitolo's Death

EROE'S SUCCESSOR IS ALSO SELECTED

Representatives of the Democratic party in New Castle and Lawrence County selected the candidates to fill the vacancies caused by the death of Peter P. Capitolo, who was nominated for mayor at the primaries, and the resignation of William J. Eroe for prothonotary, at a meeting of the city and county committee held in the Court House Saturday afternoon. Carl W. Haufler was chosen as the nominee for mayor and Theodore R. Castele, for prothonotary.

The meeting was presided over by County Chairman William R. Hanna, and was largely attended by the committeemen of the party.

A conference of the party leaders was held prior to the meeting to try and narrow down the field of candidates proposed for the mayoral nomination. There were six names mentioned, those of Paul F. Butz, H. E. Warneke, Carl W. Haufler, William J. Eroe, William Curry and Fred Reehner.

When the city committee went into their meeting to select the nominee, only four names were proposed, those of Haufler, Butz, Warneke and Curry. It finally narrowed down to Haufler and Butz, with Haufler winning out.

Prothonotary Nominee

There was no opposition to the name of Theodore R. Castele for the nomination for prothonotary.

Philip Stack was elected secretary of the county committee to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of James Long. He was opposed for this office by Charles Pickle. The office was filled by Albert C. Osborne, until a successor to Long was elected.

Bernice A. Shannon was elected vice-chairman. Miss Marguerite Uhl had also been nominated but withdrew, and the election of Mrs. Shannon was unanimously declared.

While the city committee was voting on the nominee for mayor in Courtroom Number 2, Carmi Preston presided at a meeting in Courtroom No. 1, when the various candidates who were nominated at the primaries were presented.

Those who did not speak at this time were presented to the group later by Chairman Hanna, and all asked for harmony within the party, and urged the members of the party to work for a solid ticket at the election next month.

ADDIS ABABA, Oct. 7.—American intervention, together with other powers represented here, to stave off dreaded Italian air raids on Addis Ababa and Dire Dawa, was asked today by the diplomatic corps after official news was received for the first time of the capitulation of the historic northern city of Adowa.

Ministers of eight nations decided that, acting individually, they would ask their home governments to appeal direct to Premier Mussolini, asking him not to bomb these two defenseless cities.

Pointing out that Addis Ababa has 6,000 and Dire Dawa 2,000 neutral foreign residents, Cornelius Van H. Engert, the American consul, and his colleagues despatched telegrams to Washington and other capitals. Ministers from Great Britain, France, Germany, Belgium, Greece, Turkey and Egypt participated in the move.

BEVERLY JANE WOOD HONORED AT PARTIES

Kiddies parties dotted the social calendar Saturday, and one of interest was that given by Mrs. William B. Wood, of Brooklyn, N. Y., who is visiting here in honor of her daughter, Beverly Jane, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Wood on East Washington street, the occasion celebrating her fourth birthday.

The hours from 2 until 4 o'clock were kept enlivened with tiny tots games and stunts. Much hilarity resulted with the balloons, horns and other favors given each guest, adding further to the afternoon's pleasures. Following, lunch was served at a table appointed in tones of yellow and white, with the center being adorned with a large birthday cake. Novel lollipop dolls marked the places. Mrs. W. F. Bowman assisted in serving.

Beverly Jane was presented with an array of beautiful gifts in remembrance of the event.

On Sunday afternoon, the little honored guest was again paid attention to by her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William F. Bowman, filled the role of hosts at their home on the Butler road. Another large cake topped with small burning candles, attracted the eyes of Beverly Jane when seated at the table, the double celebration almost proving too much for the young one. Pink and white predominated in the appointments. Members of the immediate families composed the guest list.

Mrs. Wood and daughter have been visiting here and plan on returning to Brooklyn in a week or two.

LUNCHEON PROGRAM D. A. R. GUEST DAY

Motoring out to Westfield grange, around Mt. Jackson, Saturday afternoon, members of Lawrence chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, and guests to the number of 70, enjoyed a delicious chicken luncheon at 1 o'clock, followed by an entertaining play.

The occasion, which launched the fall and winter program for the chapter under the regent, Mrs. H. R. McCulloch, was a decided success, reflecting much credit on the new program committee consisting of Mrs. Wyatt R. Campbell, chairman; Miss Grace Woodworth, Mrs. H. D. Horner, Miss Rose Barber and Mrs. F. P. Urey.

Mrs. McCulloch presided over a brief business session, after the customary salute to the flag was given, announcing that plans are being completed for the entertainment of the state regent, Mrs. Harper D. Sheppard, and several of her staff, at the November meeting, on the second. The affair will be in the nature of a conference-luncheon, probably called for 10 o'clock at the New Castle Field club, as there will be many visiting delegations from neighboring chapters driving up for the event.

"A Nephew in the House" was the title of the very humorous sketch presented under the direction of Mrs. Wylie Brewster. Throughout the unravelling of the plot, which had to do with the arrival of a supposed nephew, "Jack" (misleading as the name was) was Jacqueline (a niece) to take up residence with three old maid aunts, the audience was carried back to early Colonial days.

The stage setting was perfect as many rare and antique pieces of beautiful furniture formed the background. Among these were a much coveted melonoid, old fashioned set of chairs and a handsome tilt-top table, all of which are the property of Mr. Jackson families.

Upon arrival, the strictly modern young man spent much of his time shocking the old ladies, but the play ended happily when "Jack" revealed her true identity and shows up again in a lovely young lady's costume, ladylike and entirely pleasing to her dear relatives. With the exception of the leading character, the cast appeared in old fashioned costume as befitted the period, adding much to the originality and humor of the entertainment.

McGoun-Montgomery Wedding Brilliant Social Event

Touring in Virginia on their honeymoon, are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Renwick Montgomery, whose wedding was a brilliant social event of Saturday, October 5, in the First Presbyterian church. They will spend a few days in Charlottesville, expecting to go on later to New York City to bid bon voyage to the groom's sister, Mrs. Arthur C. Wingold of Grove City, who will sail for Paris within the next ten days. Concluding their trip, the young couple will take up their residence in a newly furnished apartment in Prospect Park, near Philadelphia.

For her wedding, the bride, who is the former Josephine Dunn McGoun, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel H. McGoun, Sr., of 212 Moody avenue, was beautiful in a gown of white moire, designed on princess lines, with high draped neckline, caught with two triangular pearl clasps. The long tight sleeves were puffed at the top, and finished with points over the hands, the skirt circular in the back, with a full court train.

Her tulle veil, extremely long, was a double one, and was further distinguished by an edging of rare rose point lace which had adorned the gown worn by her late great-grandmother, Mrs. James A. Crawford, for her golden wedding in the long ago. It was a gift from Miss Carrie Crawford, a daughter. The exquisite cap was fashioned of the same lace with an off the face brim. A show of bouquet of white orchids and valley lilies completed the lovely ensemble.

The bride's only attendant was Mrs. Arthur C. Wingold of Grove City, sister of the groom, as matron of honor. She was most attractive in a long gown of coral moire, with high neckline and short puffed sleeves. Contrasting small hat, and other accessories, were brown and her flowers were Talisman roses, tied with a striking shade of green ribbon.

Mr. Montgomery's only attendant was Robert Firm of Grove City. Ushering were James M. McGoun and Samuel H. McGoun, Jr., brothers of the bride; Edward A. Montgomery, Pittsburgh, and William H. Montgomery of Palembang, Sumatra, Dutch East Indies, brothers of the groom.

Proceeding the ceremony, which was impressively solemnized before several hundred people, at 3:30 o'clock, by Dr. J. J. McIlvaine, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, an organ recital of favorite nuptial melodies was played by Thomas W. Webber. During the exchange of vows, he rendered on the echo organ "O Promise Me" and "At Dawning".

As the bride entered, on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage, the familiar strains of the "Lohengrin" Bridal Chorus were heard, and for the recessional, Mr. Webber played the Mendelssohn "Wedding March".

The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion, gorgeous bouquets of big white chrysanthemums and baby mums, with asparagus fern, forming the background for the ceremony, while on either side of the altar were tall standards of the same blooms and slender white tapers glowing in seven branch candelabra. The white carpeted pathway was bordered with white satin streamers on the aisle seats, huge white satin bows tying off the several ends.

After the wedding, a delightfully informal reception and tea was held in the McGoun residence for 100 guests who were relatives or close friends of the young couple. In the receiving line with the bride party were the parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. McGoun, Sr., the latter in a handsome floor length gown of sapphire blue lace, with a shoulder bouquet of white orchids; Dr. and Mrs. B. A. Montgomery of Grove City, the latter of whom wore a modish gown of burgundy velvet, with a gardenia shoulder bouquet.

Decorations about the living room were colorful autumn flowers, a charming arrangement of yellow and apricot baby mums with orange tricolors and ferns centering the mantelpiece, before which the receiving party stood. Other gorgeous bouquets were formed of pink roses and rose baby mums with blue delphinium, and on the table was an effective centerpiece of white roses with white mums, in a silver bowl.

The wedding cake was noteworthy of mention, in that it was two tiers, adorned with tiny orange blossoms and lilies of the valley, and surmounted with a dainty bridal decoration featuring miniature white birds and flowers. It was presented on a large silver platter to Mrs. Montgomery who cut the first treasured piece before the guests were served.

Here for the wedding and reception were a large number of guests from a distance, among whom were: Dr. and Mrs. B. A. Montgomery, Mrs. Arthur C. Wingold, Grove City; Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Montgomery, Pittsburgh; Mr. and Mrs. William H. Montgomery, Palembang, Sumatra; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Firm of Grove City; Miss Lorena Montgomery, Grove City; Mrs. E. L. McKelvey, Youngstown; Miss Margaret Montgomery, Philadelphia.

Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Vogan, Miss Hilda Vogan, Youngstown; Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Elder, Springdale, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Elder, Bellevue; Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Crawford, Miss Mary E. Crawford, Cleveland; Robert Firm, Charles Atwell, Grove City; Miss Margaret Blackmore, Victor Phillips, Butler; Lyman Gerould, Youngstown; Miss Ruth Forsman, Midland, Pa.; Miss Jane Black, Miss Sally Black, Butler.

Miss Sara E. Stranahan, Mercer; Miss Virginia McCowan, Pittsburgh; Mr. and Mrs. David Kennedy, New Wilmington; Miss Katherine Lynch, Monongahela, Pa.; Miss Jane Baker, Pittsburgh; Miss Margaret Frushour, Sewickley; Miss Lillian Baird, Carnegie, Pa.; Miss Ruth Russell, Youngstown; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert J. Vogan, Miss Barbara McKelvey, Youngstown; Mrs. George V. Funch, Youngstown; Miss Helen Wheldon, Pittsburgh; Miss Florence Heintz, Sharon.

Testifying further to the popularity of both Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery is the very wonderful collection of wedding and pre-nuptial party gifts with which they have been showered. A complete set of sterling silver dinner service, exquisite crystal and china, odd pieces of lovely silver, lamps, pottery and personal presents comprise the list.

For several weeks previously, the bride was feted at delightful parties and showers by her scores of friends. She attended Westminster college and Temple University and is a member of Alpha Gamma sorority. The groom, the son of Dr. and Mrs. B. A. Montgomery of Grove City, is a graduate of Grove City college. He is connected with the Sun Oil company, in Philadelphia, near which place he and his bride will reside.

JUNIOR DEPARTMENT HAS LOVELY PARTY

Junior department of the Central Presbyterian church of which Mrs. M. L. Alley is the superintendent, enjoyed a delightful party at the church Saturday afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock, the affair being held previous to the graduation exercises occurring Sunday.

Teachers of the department were hostesses and the special guests were the two incoming classes and Mrs. John Walters. Mrs. M. L. Alley was unable to be present.

Games under the direction of Miss Edna Robinson, assisted by Mrs. George Roof and Mildred Forrest were pleasing entertainment, while a musical program was in charge of Miss Margaretta Hess and Mrs. Lester Miller, who supervised the practice for Sunday's services. Mrs. George Roof handled the memory work.

Dainty refreshments were a later consideration, the 40 some guests being served by committee composed of Miss Emma Maxwell and Mrs. Mile Forrest, assisted by De Etta Cartwright and Mildred Forrest.

EVENING PARTY ON WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

On Sunday evening, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Paolise, of 214 South Jefferson street, a surprise gathering of friends and relatives assembled in honor of their 26th wedding anniversary, the party being instigated by their daughter, Ann Paolise and Mary Peluso.

A mock wedding was performed with Mary Peluso as the bride and Joe Regna, the groom, Marie Roman was maid of honor and Mr. Benigas served as the best man. Bridesmaids were Charlotte Leonard, Amelia Sansone and Connie Bennett. Ushers were Carmen Benigas, Carmen Perrone and Patsy Sheldon. The ceremony was performed in a mock chapel, with Victor Mangino acting as priest.

Following this delightful feature, games, dancing and speeches were made, the latter by John Ross, Mike Carvella and Mrs. Carvella. Mr. and Mrs. Benigas rendered several Italian songs and John Fene, several solos. Luncheon was served at a late hour.

In honor of the occasion, Mr. and Mrs. Paolise received many beautiful gifts.

"ROCK-A-BYE" PARTY HONORS TINY TOT

Most original and much enjoyed was the "Rock-A-Bye" party given by the Misses Edna and Ann Waddington in their East Brook home on Friday evening, in honor of Ruth Ann, one-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Reider, of 229 East Washington street, this city.

The occasion was in the nature of a shower and the little tot was the recipient of a collection of dainty baby articles.

Mothers composed the guest list and the hostesses had for the pastime a contest in bridge. Prizes fell to Kathryn Mayberry and Ruth Patterson for honor scores, with the galloping award going to Ruth Patterson.

Further carrying out the "Rock-A-Bye" idea the women were served with a suitable lunch at a table centered with a miniature doll in a cradle and other details pertaining to babyhood, were in hues of pink and blue. Instead of napkins the women donned pink and blue bibs, which caused a lot of merriment. In serving, the hostesses were assisted by Patty Ann Waddington.

Polish Home Circle
Members of the Polish Home circle were pleasantly entertained at the home of Mrs. J. Sharek recently. Needlework occupied attention until a late hour when lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by her mother, Mrs. J. Ostrosky.

Plans were discussed for a Halloween party, the date for which will be determined later. In two weeks, the club will meet at the home of Mrs. J. Jopek, Wilson avenue.

R. G. Leslie Speaker.
For the regular October assembly of the West Side Garden club, dated for Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in the home of Mrs. John Hites, West Washington street, Professor R. G. Leslie will be the guest speaker. An interesting program is being planned.

East Side Garden Club.
The October meeting of the East Side Garden club will take place Wednesday at 1 o'clock in the home of Mrs. Claude Mantz, East Washington street. Luncheon will precede the usual program.

At this time the national president will be here from Columbus, O., to address the local group who organized within the past week.

Installation of officers will be a feature of the business period. On Tuesday morning Mrs. Charles Crowl, Mrs. Mary Strittmeyer, Mrs. Mae Turner and Mrs. Mary Owens will leave via motor for Niles, O., to attend the district convention sessions being conducted at St. Luke's church. They will have reports to give at the Wednesday meeting here that will prove inspiring.

Circle Luncheon.
Reading Circle '06 will open the fall program with a luncheon at 1 o'clock Thursday in the Elks club. The committee consists of Mrs. T. C. Armstrong, Mrs. W. R. McKnight and Mrs. J. A. Wilson.

Halloween was cleverly suggested in the appointments at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Drake, 406 Fairmont avenue Saturday afternoon, when they entertained at a party honoring their son Jimmie, who reached his fourth birthday anniversary. Pumpkin faces, some laughing and others with a frown, poked their noses out of the various corners and nooks of the rooms, partly hidden with corn stalks and leaves, giving a rustic autumn setting.

Guests included playmates of the honored one, and a program of interesting games held attention from 2 until 5 o'clock. Ten lunch time arrivals, the group filed into the dining room and were given places at the long table that was attractive with the approaching holiday decorations. A large cake formed the centerpiece. Mrs. Drake was assisted in serving a tasty collation by Mrs. Henry Brenneman, Mrs. Lloyd C. McCormick and Mrs. Harold Gray. A number of handsome gifts were received by Jimmie, as remembrances of the affair.

Queen Sewing Circle.
It was a pleasure for Queen Sewing members to gather in the home of Mrs. William Crowe on Dewey avenue recently for a business session and social period. Luncheon was served in the dining room, with covers for eight at a large table centered with autumn flowers. Mrs. Harley Crowe aided the hostess.

The next meeting will be on October 13 with Mrs. E. E. Blaine, Dewey avenue.

The Front Page.
Money Is Not All.
Mixed War News.
No Big War? Probably.
By ARTHUR BRISBANETHE HUMAN RACE does not take serious matters quite seriously, as yet, and Mr. Arthur (Bugs) Baer, even in these war days can say truly:
"Mickey Cochrane can chase Mussolini off the front page. With a three-bagger."
Mickey Cochrane, as more than 100,000,000 Americans will know, is a baseball player.

NO THREE-BAGGER can chase former President Hoover off today's front page, for Mr. Hoover, telling what Republicans expect to do to Franklin D. Roosevelt in front page "MUST" in "TAXATION, REPUDIATION, INFLATION," Mr. Hoover sees "Three Horsemen," Democratic horsemen, of course, and one or all three will devastate our land.

If Democrats continue as they are going, Mr. Hoover warns young Republicans, that an unbalanced budget will roll down on them, and their descendants, "as inexorable as an avalanche."

IMPORTANT SPEECH of the week in Washington: By Bernard M. Baruch, in substance this:
"We are not ready for the league and the league is not ready for us."

A striking admission by one who had done so much to put the United States into the international organization at Geneva.

SENATOR JAMES F. POPE, of Idaho, now the most active internationalist in the senate, confessed that the dismal failure to avert the war "has struck a blow at the heart of the league." These confessions came at a time when efforts were being revived to tuck the United States in the league through the trap-door, the league court.

THE MISSOURI farmers complain that they have been compelled to burn their crops. They grew more than they were allowed by their AAA quotas. In every case, the farmer would have preferred not the torch but to give his products to the poor.

MR. HOOVER says "all items counted in" Democratic spending now runs to EIGHT BILLION DOLLARS A YEAR, which means eight thousand times one million dollars, eight times the total debt of the United States as it stood when the war broke out.

The nation's debt is piling up, in spite of heavy taxation, to the tune of three and a half billion a year, and "unpaid government obligations at the end of the Roosevelt administration will exceed thirty-five billion dollars."

MR. HOOVER presents a strong financial argument and impressive figures, but other than financial arguments will be needed if Republicans are to change that 1932 vote of 42 states against him.

The average little man should, but does not, know that he pays the nation's bills in indirect taxes, such as the present price of pork, and especially in continued depression and unemployment. He does not know that excessive taxation paralyzes industry and enterprise and kills payrolls.

THE AMOUNT of money taken from the big man by indirect taxation worries that little man not at all. Republicans must find some argument that will interest the 100,000,000 that have little money. Perhaps Senator Borah or some other Republican will find that argument in the fact that Americans like to (Continued On Page Six)

By MARSHALL MASLIN

I . . . I . . . I . . . And I can't remember being homesick but once. My family once complained mildly that during the war I wrote no homesick letters.

But if I'd been really polite and thoughtful, I'd have faced a few.

But if I'm ever compelled to live anywhere for any time outside of my own home state, with no hope of ever going back, that old devil of homesickness will probably perch on my shoulder.

Funny situation: One woman, with a baby, trying to talk about her cat. Another woman, with a cat, trying to get in a few words about what her cat did.

I have no moral scruples about it, but I don't get any fun out of gambling.

And I don't exactly like snakes, but I can't remember ever killing one.

When anybody suggests that I learn a new card game, I feel myself pulling back on the traces. . . . But after I've learned it, I like it immensely and can't understand why anybody should object to learning a new game.

From the many different stories and causes and irritations told him he has tried to figure out a formula for happy marriages. Besides he offers a few dollars for prospective bride and bridegrooms. Don't marry the only child or the youngest in the family—they are used to having their own way. Don't marry an opposite. By FRANCINE MARKEL

"When working at the home of my employer when he is too ill to come to office, should I rise to greet his wife should she enter the room?" She is my own age. Is it ever necessary to rise when introduced to another woman?"

ANSWER—You should rise to greet your employer's wife, not because you owe her any deference as his wife, but because she is your wife, and one should always rise to greet or to accept an introduction to one's hostess, when she is your senior or your junior.

In other cases a woman need not rise to greet or accept an introduction to another woman of her own approximate age or to one who is younger. But she should rise for older than she. By "much older" I do not mean a difference of a few years. Many hurt feelings have been caused by such a subtle way of indicating that a woman of 45 or 50 is old.

Peace Path Difficult.
Faces Many Obstacles.
War Is Destruction.Central Press
New York Bureau

By LESLIE RICHEL

Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—If the war spreads to the Mediterranean, will the American people remain neutral?

Millions of people are asserting that the American government had better remain neutral or else—! But will the American PEOPLE remain neutral?

How will emotionalism affect them? What reaction will propaganda have on them?

Will they recognize propaganda when they see it, hear it, read it? Can they overcome their emotionalism by clear, unemotional thinking?

If so, they will be the first people on earth to rise above such mass appeals.

SUPPOSE

Suppose a war should last several years.

Suppose a persistent but subtle flow of propaganda should depict during these years that only by coming to the "defense" of a certain country could "democracy" be saved from "dictatorship" or "communism."

Suppose a wave of anger should sweep over the nation and people demand that we go over there to prevent the dictators or the communists from coming over here, or from winning from democracy abroad.

Well, then, what? What would occur to the minority trying to prevent our entry into the war?

They would be forced to kiss the flag and be sent to prison for 10 to 20 years at hard labor.

Perhaps a few would be shot or hanged, as an object lesson to "disloyal" persons.

You say that is impossible? Perhaps you ought to hark back to mere 21 years. Would you like to read of the war to save democracy—? We mean, the actual history of 1917—Would you—could you go through the bitter details, of the millions and millions who gave up the lives for—well, for what?

For what?

For what?

For what?

For what?

Would you desire to read the secret documents, just coming to light, how the United States was led into a war that had no bearing on America?

(This writer, as an emotionally stirred young man, was one who joined in the demands for war. He looks back in shame.)

CAN WE RESTRAIN OURSELVES?

If the Italo-Ethiopian conflict begins to involve Europe, can we ordinary citizens forsake the profits?

War is destruction. For a while, the warring countries buy heavily from neutrals in order to destroy more. In the meantime, the neutrals—including virtually all their citizens, large and small—are profiting. War makes better business (in neutral countries) for a while.

Then money and resources give out overseas.

The nations still must buy largely. They can buy if we can lend them the money or extend the credit with which to buy OUR products.

We can't resist that.

Eventually, the side we have chosen to favor because of its large purchases from us says: "Our back is up against the wall. Unless you jump in to help us, everything you have loaned to us will be lost. You can't afford that. If we lose and all your billions are lost, your entire economic system will collapse. That will be worse to your citizens than war."

Then we jump into the war—and everything economically seems to go all right again.

But, after the victory and the division of spoils which we share, the fettering of the defeated, the world economic order collapses again. And for years we have a depression that is "worse than war."

For war never can be anything else except destruction.

Democracy can not be saved by war. Nor can truth. win. Both are secured by a slow, tortuous process, lacking glamor and excitement. The hero is the man who trudges slowly upward, regards of conflicts and jealousies, or gibes and prejudices. It takes, indeed, a very brave man to trudge that unacclaimed path.

Is there such a man? There WAS such a man—once.

Writing Wrongs—You're in error if you suppose—

That a rattlesnake has a button (or rattle) for every year of its age. L. Crawford Roberts, Waynesboro, Pa., tells us this is wrong. "An additional button or rattle, appears each time they shed their skin, and this may happen two or three times a year. You can't tell a rattlesnake from the number of its rattles."

Mr. Roberts also tells us we're wrong if we believe that all fowls, or feathered animals have phalanges, and cites the owl.

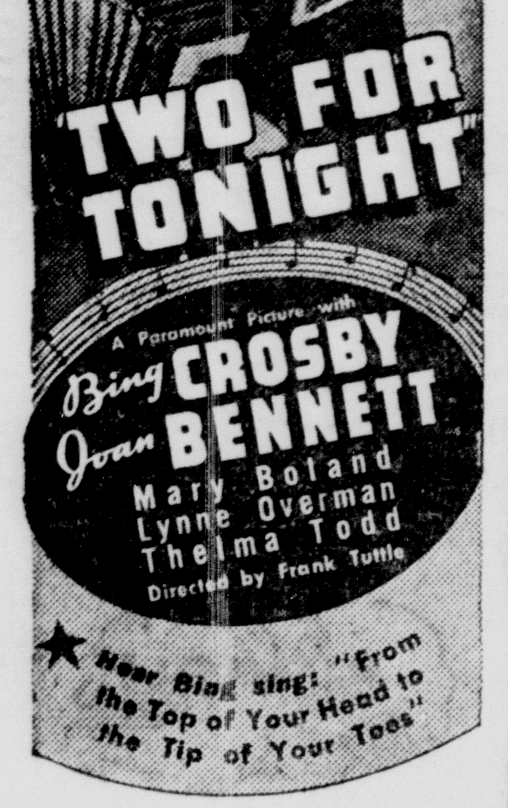

Frank H. Stewart, of Philadelphia and Woodbury, N. J., president of the Gloucester County Historical Society, rightfully reproves us for our slip in referring to Griscom as the married name of Betsy Ross when, of course, it was her maiden name, and provides us with an interesting footnote: "On Nov. 4, 1733, she was married to John Ross at Gloucester, N. J., which was

Butler Flirting With W.P.A. Headquarters

Thought to have been settled definitely some weeks ago the question of removing the Works Progress Administration headquarters from New Castle to Butler again came to the fore today. Apparently the politicians of Butler county are insisting upon the removal of the headquarters to Butler and have offered office accommodations there.

The desirability of New Castle as a center for district 14 is admitted by every one who has knowledge of the facts. Geographically New Castle is so situated that it is possible to get to any part of the district within a short time. Butler is off in one corner of the district.

Matter Of Room

The argument advanced in behalf of the Butler proposition is that the space offered is ample for the needs of the WPA. At the present time it is true that it is necessary to rent a few rooms in the Greer block for the Lawrence County unit of the WPA, but this condition will not obtain much longer.

Both Harry Hopkins and Edward
N. Jones, national and state directors of WPA have said that the relief load must be lifted by Nov. 1 and that relief cases must be transferred to the Works Progress projects. This being true it follows that the district 14 force of the Emergency Relief Administration will be reduced drastically and the room now occupied by them can be taken over by the WPA.

At the present time both relief and Works Progress groups are in the relief building on South Mill street. The relief forces occupy about two thirds of the floor space and the WPA about one third. The WPA needs about one half or slightly better to function effectively. By November 1, and certainly by the first of the year there will be plenty of room in the present quarters.

It is thought that the necessity of rental for rooms in the Greer block may be a stumbling block in the matter of that if this money could be guaranteed by private sources the removal talk might cease. The total amount needed until January
1 for this purpose would not exceed $700.

Edward N. Jones, state administrator has already detailed a man to go to Butler to survey the facilities offered there and make a report to him. In the meantime there are two buildings in New Castle which would be more than ample in size if more room is needed.
The two are, the shop building at the Benjamin Franklin Junior high school and the Carnegie auditorium.

As the matter stands today it has all the appearance of being a political endeavor to remove the headquarters from New Castle. Local citizens have already interested themselves in the matter and will endeavor to hold the headquarters here.

For a time it was thought that the old post office on North Mercer street would be taken for use as a headquarters. The project was approved here, and approved in Harrisburg. Sent to Washington it was found that an act of Congress would be necessary to get the building released and the red tape necessary to getting the building would have been so lengthy that the matter was dropped.

Even little children dislike being led by the hand, and grown-up Americans farmers and manufacturers do not like being led by the hand. No matter how kind, gentle and well meaning the professor that leads them.

WAR NEWS gives estimates of 15,000 killed, on both sides, up to date. Italians have virtually taken Adowa, scene of Italian defeat 40 years ago. Mussolini announced that plan when the trouble began.

Ethiopians find comfort in the report that their men have retaken the town of Adigrat, captured by Italians, and especially by news that one Italian bombing plane was shot down, and an Ethiopian plane fought off two Italian planes. The pilot for Ethiopia is said to be a colored flier from Harlem, New York, named John Robinson. He was flying an antiquated monoplane, according to Ethiopian reports, but returned the machine gun fire of his enemies so effectively that he escaped them.

COLORED MEN should make excellent pilots, with proper balance, minds not easily disturbed, also, they should be forced down on territory sprayed with mustard gas. Experiments made by the U. S. government show that 80 per cent of colored men, against 20 per cent of white men, are naturally immune to mustard gas effects. Haldane, British chemist, ascribes the high immunity of the African race to the fact that mustard gas poisoning is kin to sunburn and ability to resist that.

A NEW MASSACHUSETTS law compels all teachers to take an oath of loyalty to their country, the Constitution, flag, etc. President Coolidge of Harvard wisely informs his faculty that they must all sign the oath or resign. A great institution of learning could not oppose any state law, and would not.

Dr. Girtly F. Mather, Harvard professor of geology, who was a captain of engineers in the Big War, did not think it necessary for him to swear loyalty to his own country any more than to his grandmother, or his children. But as leader of an opposition to the law, he will submit, rather than involve Harvard in litigation.

The feeling of the protesting professors is that while men have been known to kick their own mothers and even kill them, it should not be necessary for all sons to take an oath not to do so.

IT IS A COMFORT to know that the position taken by France will probably prevent a real European war. The league, France agreeing, takes economic and financial sanctions against Italy, which means no lending of money, no selling goods to Italy.

But Japan will sell, and perhaps lend. America cannot lend because of the Johnson law, but she has plenty to sell in the way of raw and manufactured products, cotton, copper, automobiles, chemicals that become explosive or poison when properly mixed. Whether Americans may sell depends on President Roosevelt.

THE IMPORTANT decision is the French refusal to take military sanctions against Italy. England refuses Italy's suggestion that she withdraw her warships from the Mediterranean, but England is not likely to fire that "first shot" that would bring Mussolini's bombing planes to London. England has never really enjoyed a fight all by herself. Men, nations and wolves fight best in packs.

IT IS INTERESTING to read that England has been buying from us more arms goods than Italy has bought, and our quiet, unobtrusive friends in Japan have "outpurchased" both of them. Americans have sold gigantic quantities of copper, useful in war to foreign countries, more than fifty-four million pounds of Italy alone. This country has also sold a great quantity of gases, some of which may turn up on battlefields later.

France is the biggest buyer of gases from America, more than eight million pounds. Germany bought only 6,667 pounds. She understands poison gas manufacturing, having pioneered in its use in 1915. (Copyright, 1935, by King Features Syndicate, Inc. All rights reserved.)

"Trusty" Grabs Car For New Castle Trip

BUTLER, Pa., Oct. 7.—The temptation of the open road proved too great for a young trusty at the Butler county jail yesterday afternoon and he dropped the lawn-mower he was pushing to take a hasty trip to his home in New Castle—using, it is claimed, another person's car.

The youth, Walter Jenkins, was taken into custody in New Castle by state highway patrolmen a few hours after he left Butler and the car in which he made the trip was returned to its owner, James C. Mahood, of 420 East Penn street. Jenkins, who was serving a term here on charges of larceny by trick, was mowing the lawn at the Diamond park when he felt the urge to visit his home.

BOTH LEGS BROKEN IN AUTO ACCIDENT

BUTLER, Oct. 7.—Harry Sherry, this city is in a serious condition at the Butler Memorial hospital as a result of an auto crash late yesterday on the Butler-Pittsburgh road, three miles south of here. Sherry was riding with Joseph McAnany, Butler, when the latter lost control of his car, which struck a bank and overturned. Sherry suffered fractures of both legs and hospital officials feared that amputation of one might be necessary. McAnany was slightly injured.

Unemployment Seen Dropping

Former Head Of Government Printing Plant Sees Increase In Business

TAKES ISSUE WITH LEADERS

Central Press Washington Bureau 1900 S Street
By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—George H. Carter, former head of the government printing office, the world's largest printer, is a printing machinery salesman now. His duties take him all over the country and bring him into contact with newspaper folks (who are supposed to be pretty well informed concerning economic conditions in their various areas) here, there and everywhere.

Carter says that not only is business improving; unemployment is dwindling.

As to business, it generally is agreed that there has been an improvement but most agencies (such as the A. F. of L. and the labor and commerce departments) which deal with the problem of unemployment have concurred hitherto in the verdict that involuntary idleness is decreasing little if any.

LESS UNEMPLOYMENT
Carter disagrees with them. "Unemployment statistics," he says, "don't mean much and never will until we have an unemployment census—kept up to date, too."

He is familiar with this subject, also. Before he became public printer, he was connected with the census bureau.

"There hasn't been a time in the past," he continued, "when we knew how much unemployment we had, and we don't know today. We can only draw conclusions from the looks of things. Indications are that there is less of it."

IN OTHER DAYS
"In 1904," proceeded George, "we considered ourselves fairly prosperous. "I was living in New York then. Across the street from my flat was a big bakery. Leading up to it, every night, was a long bread line. The derelicts in it got their loaves, took them over to the East Side and traded them for beer. In the morning they scooped water out of the fountain basins in old tin cans to wash their eyes open."

"But that wasn't so easy to identify as unemployment, because we had no relief rolls to call attention to it."

UNEMPLOYED?
"In those days," Carter went on, "there was another class of unemployed which wasn't noticed. A man out of a job was taken care of by his relatives, if he had any. As the present juncture the government takes care of him; he is on record as unemployed."

"A few days ago, during a wait between trains, I fell to talking with the hoi polloi on the street in a western town. I asked a certain older how times were."

"Not bad," he answered. "My son-in-law has just finished up 19 jobs of painting. He made good money. I live with him. I'm on relief myself. Between his profits and my relief allowances we're very comfortable."

"That old chap rates as unemployed because he's on relief. Two or three years ago he wouldn't have so rated; he simply would have lived with his son-in-law."

UNEMPLOYMENT CONSCIOUS
Carter did not contend that unemployment is not a problem. He contended only that we are "unemployed conscious," whereas we were not until recently.

But, he insisted, there is an improvement.

"Do you attribute it," I inquired, "to the New Deal, or is it in spite of the New Deal, or is the New Deal actually retarding it?"

"It is in spite of it and the New Deal is retarding it," Carter assured me.

"We'd be much further on our way toward recovery, but for the New Deal, and its 'ism,' and its brain trust and its breathing spells. But we're recovering anyway."

It is to be remembered that George Carter is a dyed-in-the-wool Republican of the old school. Concerning the New Deal's title to credit for the improvement he may be prejudiced. The point is that he senses rather more improvement (for it includes an employment pick-up) than even the New Dealers claim for their program.

On Court House Hill

This is the last month during which county taxes can be paid at face, according to County Treasurer, William O. Pitts. The time limit for getting rebates of penalties and interest on delinquent taxes, also expires this month.

Letters of administration have been granted at the register and recorder's office to the Union Trust company in the estate of Wladyslaw Konopka, also known as Walter Konopka.

Application for a pardon of William Foley of Ellwood City who was sent to the Western penitentiary for rape, has been made and a hearing will be held on October 17th. Foley was sentenced to serve from 5 to 10 years, his sentence to date from July 27th, 1933, the time of his arrest.

The damage claim of Frank A. Palmer against the County of Lawrence may be settled under an agreement made with the county commissioners in which Palmer agrees to accept $1100. The agreement has been filed in the probate court's office and if no exceptions are filed before October 15, the claim will be paid. Property damaged is on the New Castle-Ellwood road, opposite Cascade park, a large cut having been made in the grading of the hill.

Final account of Perry S. McCune, administrator of the late, Harry, C. Turner, was approved by Judge Hilderbrand and distribution ordered at a hearing Saturday. The accounts showed assets of $7,339.98, credits of $3,577.38, and a balance of $3,762.60 for distribution. This amount was allotted to Mrs. Wilmina McCune, a sister of decedent.

Registration of voters eligible to cast their ballots at the November election closed at the registration bureau at noon Saturday. Republicans registered on the final day numbered 41 and Democrats, 19. There was one Prohibitionist and one no party. On Friday 43 Republicans and 19 Democrats were registered. Thomas Edmunds, registration clerk, will give the total number registered during the recent registration tomorrow.

Tomorrow is the last day on which independent candidates can file their nomination papers at the county commissioners' office in order to have their names placed on the ballot at the coming November election. The latest candidates to file papers are as follows: Anna McCart, inspector, fourth precinct of Union township; Franklin R. Woods, county commissioner; Edward Marbacher, county assessor for the fifth ward.

Howard C. Marshall, who was nominated on the Republican ticket for high constable of Enon, has withdrawn as a candidate, and asked the county commissioners not to print his name on the November ballot.

In order to make an estimate of the number of street lists of voters that it will be necessary to print, Registration clerk, Thomas Edmunds, has made a tabulation of the different streets of New Castle and has found that 514 lists will be necessary. The number of names to be printed are around 19,500. The street lists are really a needless expense and are used principally by candidates and politicians, who used to have to copy them off the registry lists at their own expense, until some bright legislator had a law passed making the taxpayers foot the bill.

A FEW HINTS About Safeguarding Your Home Against Fire

This is National Fire Prevention Week and everyone is interested in learning sure ways and means of never having to call in the fire department.

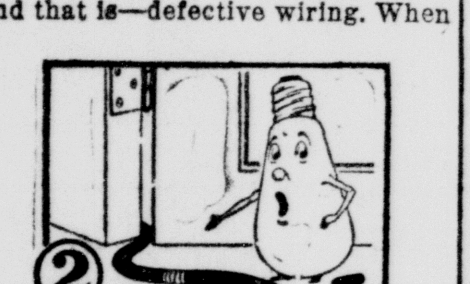

It's a bit embarrassing to realize that most fires are caused through sheer carelessness. So every so often cigarette smokers make a resolution to be sure their cigarettes are out. They swear never to put even a dead cigarette in a waste basket. Mothers teach their children again that matches are not to be played with. Only rags are not thrown into corner closets and so on down the list of the obvious acts that cause fires.

Never run cords under rugs.

But there is another cause of household fires that is a bit more baffling to the average householder and that is—defective wiring. When they hear of a fire caused through an electric cord or through fire in the walls they immediately jump to the conclusion that electricity must be a dangerous fire hazard. Nothing is further from the truth—electricity can be the safest thing possible if it is correctly used. The trouble is that people do not know enough about electricity to judge for themselves when and how it is safe. They rely on the word of the manufacturer of appliances or their dealer or the contractor who installs it. That is just what they should be able to do and what the industry is trying to make sure they can do.

Take cords—for instance. Practically everything electrical that you use in your home has a cord.

fires. However, within the last few years a definite step has been taken so that you as a householder can be sure that your electric cords are safe. A little label has been devised that is clamped on reliable cord every five feet. This label simply states that the cord has been approved by the Underwriters Laboratories. Every reputable manufacturer is using this cord on his appliances. And all reputable dealers. Department stores are refusing to handle appliances that do not carry this label. So whenever you buy a cord—a lamp or an appliance that uses a cord—make sure that the cord bears this label and you do away with fire hazard from faulty cords. Of course if you mistreat even the very best cords, naturally they will lose their safety feature.

Cords should be examined regularly.

If you take the advice of the little man illustrated in these pictures your approved cord will last much longer and it cannot be listed as a fire hazard.

Another cause of fire in connection with electricity can be from overloading a circuit which is not protected by a fuse of the right strength.

Your wires can get too "hot" if you try to take too much current over them. But if your circuit is properly fused you cannot take too much because the minute you start to—the fuse blows and you can't get any electricity, let alone too much. A fuse has just one function and that is to prevent wires getting too hot from overload. Your electrician should be able to tell you the correct fuse for your various circuits. On the average house cir-

Our recommendation for safeguarding your home against any possibility of fires caused by electricity is to list: Ask to have an electrical inspector come to your house to check over your wiring. If he tells you it is all right—it is. Next make a resolution to have only approved electricians do any work in your home. Discourage the men of the family from extending wires. And make sure that every cord in use in your home carries the Underwriters Seal of Approval.

Children's Party Ends In Tragedy

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Oct. 7.—Gasoline mistaken for water and poured over a children's backyard bonfire Saturday night brought tragedy to a play party of six youngsters when one 4-year-old boy was killed and his sister and another girl critically burned in the explosion.

The dead boy was Lloyd Gray, whose sister, Dorothy, 10, was burned severely when she tried to save him. Barbara Hutch, 10, also was standing near when "Sonny" Richards, 8, poured the contents of a can onto a small fire which had been used to roast potatoes at a backyard picnic.

Sonny thought the can contained water.

JUDGE WILSON NAMED ON COLLEGE BOARD

SLIPPERY ROCK, Pa. Oct. 7.—Work was received here today of the appointment of Governor Earle of Judge John H. Wilson, of Butler, to the board of trustees at the local State Teacher's College.

Wilson, acknowledged head of the Democratic party in the county fills the vacancy created by the death of R. H. McCleaster, Butler banker, more than a year ago.

ONE KILLED, THREE INJURED IN CRASH

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Oct. 7.—Geo. Karos, 50, of Massillon, was killed, and three persons were hurt on State Route No. 62 about 13 miles southwest of here.

George Needham, 40, of Youngstown, told state police Karos' car, traveling at high speed with only its parking lights burning struck his machine, swung it around, and went on. He found Karos' car a short distance back, overturned and badly smashed with Karos pinned beneath. Needham, Mrs. Needham and Miss Catherine Weizel a neighbor, were injured, Mrs. Needham, seriously.

Committees Of Baptist Church Convention Busy

State Convention Coming Here Next Week; Involves Many Details

"Vitalizing The Local Church" Will Be Theme Of Convention Program

A convention the size of the Pennsylvania Baptist convention, which is to be conducted in New Castle on October 15, 16 and 17, involves a great amount of work and planning.

Much of this work is being shouldered by a group of committees appointed from the congregation of the host church, the First Baptist. They are:

Convention Committees
Central Committee: D. R. Smith, chairman, Rev. C. H. Heaton, D. C. Williams, Robert Strickler and Vera Williams.
Entertainment Committee: Mrs. David Nesbit, chairman, Mrs. Will Harris, Mrs. Leonard Dandy, Mrs. W. C. McCalmont, Mrs. N. M. Joseph, Miss Mary Brown, Mrs. Walter Russell and Mrs. Harry Irwin.
Dinners and Luncheons: Mrs. G. D. Hildebrand, chairman, Mrs. J. A. Porte and Mrs. Charles T. Metzler.
Exhibits and Accommodations: Mrs. Frank L. Kelly, chairman, Mrs. Owen Fox, Mrs. Stanley Treser, Jesse McCommon, D. C. McClelland, and William Sterling.
Parking: Under the direction of Thomas Arthur and assistants.
Publicity: B. French Johnson, Rev. C. H. Heaton, Beulah Heaton and Mrs. Myrtle Klingensmith.
Hostesses: Mrs. R. E. Elmore, chairman, Mrs. Geo. Sison, Mrs. William Sterling, Mrs. Jane Pattison, Mrs. Ed McKibben, Mrs. Will Harris, Mrs. Harry Remley, Mrs. Will Eakin, Mrs. J. Q. L. Roberts, Mrs. D. R. Smith, Mrs. Harriet Macom, Mrs. E. U. Snyder, Mrs.

Fred Howland, Mrs. C. H. Heaton, Mrs. W. C. McCalmont, Mrs. Chester McMillen, Mrs. Walter Russell, Mrs. Everett Brest, Mrs. Owen Fox, Mrs. Stanley Treser, Mrs. E. S. Hill, Mrs. Jesse McCommon, Mrs. B. F. Russler, Mrs. Fred Remley, Mrs. Ira Landis, Mrs. Alice Davis, Mrs. W. T. Hammond and Mrs. J. S. Martin.

Increased Interest

Last year the state convention was conducted at Scranton, and the previous year at Pittsburgh. The number of accredited delegates in attendance at Scranton was 364 and the visitors 66, making a total outside attendance of 430. This was quite an increase over the attendance at the Pittsburgh convention in 1933, which stood at 372 total.

Those in charge believe that the New Castle convention will bring close to 500 visitors; they base their belief on the increased interest in the annual confabs and the fact that the program this year is unusually attractive.

Arrangements are being made to have many of the visitors provided for in the homes of local residents. The Castleton hotel will accommodate a part of the delegation.

All conferences, meetings, addresses, etc., are to be conducted in the First Baptist church, corner of North and East streets. A streamer will be prominently placed at that corner to designate the meeting place to visitors.

An interesting and challenging study of problems common to the local church will be undertaken in several conference and discussion periods, with noted pastors and denominational leaders in charge. On Wednesday afternoon, October 16, the first discussion will center around the relationship of the individual member to the church and the responsibility of the church to the individual member. Dr. W. V. Adams of the faculty of Eastern Baptist seminary, Philadelphia, and Rev. W. T. Vandever of the First Baptist church, Erie, will introduce the questions and conduct the discussions.

On Thursday morning the subject "Vitalizing Activities of the Local Church" will hold the spotlight in conference thinking. Two hours have been allotted for the study of three phases of this question: How can the cooperative functions of the church and Bible school be strengthened? How may the auxiliary organizations of the church avoid becoming liabilities? and Does the financial problem overshadow the spirituality of the church? Rev. R. Donald Williamson, generally regarded as the "efficiency expert" of the Northern Baptist convention, will conduct this session.

"Vitalizing the Local Church," based on the text, Acts 1:8, will be the theme of the entire convention.

Vital Statistics

Here are a few vital statistics about the Pennsylvania Baptist association of interest at this time:

Total members—135,347.
Number of "associations" within the state association—24. (New Castle is a member of the Beaver Baptist association which is comprised by 19 churches.)
Number of church buildings—653.
Number of parsonages—374.
Total value of church property—$23,804,936.
Ordained ministers—539.
Licensed ministers—188.
Gross gain in membership—7,302.
Loss (through death, withdrawal, etc.)—5,867.
Net gain—1,435.
Porter W. Beck of Pittsburgh is president of the Pennsylvania Baptist association. New officers are elected at each convention.

When a Gibraltar-Malta cable broke 10 times in the same place recently and bushes and branches were found entangled in it, workers surmised that an underground river flowed into the sea 10 miles out from the coast of North Africa.

Republicans Not Confident

Disagree Over Questions Relative To Coming Presidential Election

CAMPAIGN FUND CAUSE OF WORRY

Central Press Washington Bureau 1900 S street

By CHARLES F. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Parti-

pants in the recent Republican "confab" in Washington talked confidently, for publication, of the G. O. P.'s 1936 presidential prospects. In confidential chats they were not so optimistic; not by a great deal.

For one thing, their 1936 platform?

Second, their standard bearer and his running mate?

Third, funds?

There was plenty of disagreement as to items 1 and 2. As to item 3 it was heartily agreed upon that funds must be ample. But how raise them? Nobody convincingly answered that question.

WHAT KIND OF PLATFORM?
The platform? Should it be simply denunciatory of the New Deal or should it outline a constructive program, too?

One element among the conferees favored a policy confined to viewing Rooseveltianism with alarm with horror, in fact. These folk argued that the American electorate votes not so much for the candidate it likes as against the candidate it opposes. They reasoned that the 1932 result was anti-Hoover rather than pro-Roosevelt. They advocated, for 1936, the stirring up of anti-Roosevelt sentiment, while not particularly bothering to outline an affirmative plan.

Less cynical Republican politicians were of the opinion, however, that a real alternative to the New Deal must be proposed.

WHAT ALTERNATIVE?
"Well," said the cynics, "what's the alternative?"

The G. O. P. of course wants to capture the industrial, processing east, which its managers believe, with considerable appearance of justification, to be hostile to the New Deal's agrarian legislation.

But, if the G. O. P. pursues processing taxation, it automatically antagonizes the farm belt, which evidently is devoted to it.

The cynics' theory was that it would be vastly better to denounce and generalize and preach constitutionality than to take a definite position and make enemies of one side or the other.

The issue was left unsettled and doubtless will remain so until the Republican convention—and then there may be a split.

What the G. O. P. hopes is a split also in the Democratic party.

WESTERN CANDIDATE

The G. O. P. candidate?

Clearly he must be from the west.

Col. Frank Knox, Senator William E. Borah of Idaho, Governor Alfred M. Landon of Kansas or Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan are prominently mentioned.

Knox probably is the strongest aspirant—technically; only technically.

There is no inspiration in Vandenberg.

Either might be nominated, but I think it is agreed in political circles that either would be sure to be beaten.

Landon is an unknown outside Kansas. He can be considerably advertised in a year—but Kansas is mentioned as a "queer state". It still is pro-prohibition. I have heard this suggested against Landon.

BORAH'S POPULARITY

Borah has tremendous popularity. But Borah is past 70.

If he wins can he live out his term?

And his running mate, should he be nominated, will be nothing like Borah.

His partner on the ticket will have to be eastern—like Representative Bertrand H. Snell or Representative James W. Wadsworth, Jr.

Some such selection would be necessary to balance the ticket.

And what liberal, however well disposed toward Borah, would vote for him, with the prospect that he would die in office, to be succeeded by a Snell, a Wadsworth or any other eastern ultra-conservative?

WHAT ABOUT MONEY?

Finally, campaign funds? Unquestionably there are plenty of old-time capitalists who gladly would contribute liberally to beat the New Deal in 1936.

But they haven't the inclination to contribute hopelessly, to TRY to beat it.

MY NEW YORK

By JAS. ASWELL

(Copyright, 1935, Central Press Assn.)

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Some customers wrote during the summer suggesting that I devote more space to the theater. They pointed out that many visitors to this hamlet would like advance tips on the show-shops. Therefore I have duly inspected most of the exhibits so far brought forth.

But there are two factors which make attendance at the theater here a sort of ordeal. One is the audience. The other is the opinions of the animals in the regular New York dramatic critic zoo.

Of course it is possible to ignore the reactions of the first and second nighters who sit around you. But when you step out into the fresh air between the acts you are bound to hear comment that, if your temperament is anything like mine, makes you indignant. And, again if your temperament is anything like mine, a fatal curiosity leads you to peruse the words, next morning, of the drama tasters.

I am, apparently, incurably small town in all my reactions. I like homely and simple and unpretentious shows of the sort that appeal to Aunt Agatha. I do not brag about this because it may be a fault; but it is true. In other words I am repelled by the "smart" shows, the fashionable shows that the dinner-at-eight crowd find "too, too divine" and that the blasé critics, by and large, find appetizing.

But it is irritating to find yourself almost always on the side of the shows which last a week, two weeks or even two nights and unalterably against the shows which hurl them in the aisles with wild appreciation and run a year. I have just seen a play which will very likely be a flop, yet I enjoyed it more than any play I have seen so far.

The play was "Most of the Game," by one of the three dramatists who, in this opinion, are most skilled in their craft, Mr. John Van Druten. If you care, the other two are S. N. Behrman and W. Somerset Maugham.

"Most of the Game" is quiet, urbane, perhaps trivial, and pokes fun at the Woolcott-Thurber set in many a sly innuendo. People who do things because they are the "smart" things to do are more than once skewered in Mr. Van Druten's expert dialogue. And James Bell, dryest and drollest of current actors, refuses to wear a coat in a Waldorf suite, thus further enraging the whoopsey Park Avenue—and the Greenwich Villagers who insist that every play be a tract with no possible relation to entertainment, or the $3.30 unpocketed by the box office sheep.

Moreover the Van Druten play, in the person of Miss Dorothy Hyson (Mrs. Robert Douglas), an ingenue who conceivably could inspire a hero to romantic derring-do; not the usual shrewish Ziegfeld lass of the 1912 "Follies."

In short, "Most of the Game" offers sparkling amusement for a couple of hours after dinner. That's old-fashioned. Now a play must attack war or fascism or praise communism and if you enjoy parts of it, the producers are often tolerant enough to forgive you; but it's not a privilege you buy with your ticket.

But perhaps I am too bitter. Perhaps I am the private who's out of step. Perhaps the high-falutin' and sententious "Winterst" is immortal, as some of the critics and some of the scornful between-the-acts at "Most of the Game" hinted.

Anyhow it will probably do no good to recommend the Van Druten play to you. It will undoubtedly have folded before you get to New York. Well, Mr. Minsky goes on forever, and I think I'll go down and take a look at his new opus.

U. S. SENTIMENT OVERWHELMINGLY FOR PEACE

Col. E. M. House Sees War Danger

Says U. S. In Danger Of Being Drawn Into Any War Anywhere On Earth

PRESIDENT WILSON'S ADVISER GIVES VIEWS

By KENNETH T. DOWNS
International News Service Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—The United States stands in danger of becoming involved in war as long as there is a war going on in Africa, or any place else in the world, Colonel Edward M. House told International News Service today.

He declared that the best insurance this country can take to keep out of war is to maintain an army and navy which will command the respect of world powers.

"I have never before seen such overwhelming sentiment for peace as there is in this country today," he said. "But how long this sentiment will last, God only knows. It might change almost overnight."

"As long as there is a war in progress any place on earth today there is danger that this country may become involved."

Colonel House, who probably knows more about the powerful forces which drew America into the World War than any other man, and who as President Woodrow Wilson's most intimate adviser fought these forces to the end, broke a long-standing rule of silence on public affairs to warn of the dangers he sees for this country in the seemingly remote struggles between Italy and Ethiopia.

Lean, straitlaced and 77 years old now, the white-haired diplomat and scholar appeared as keen as in those days of 1914 when he foresaw the impending catastrophe in Europe. He is still as interested in peace—and as practical about it—as he was then, when his activities so impressed Kaiser Wilhelm II that the German emperor said in his memoirs:

"The visit of Colonel House to Berlin and London in the spring of 1914 almost prevented the World War."

Best Protection
"Wars and the directions they take once they are started are almost unpredictable," Colonel House said. "That is why the best protection our country can have against becoming involved in them is a powerful army and navy to lend our word authority."

"When I went to Europe for President Wilson in 1914 in the interests of peace, we had an army about the size of the New York City police force. It was held in utter contempt by the European military. Consequently, the word of this country carried little weight."

"As I have said, there never has been such complete and overwhelming sentiment for peace and against war as there is in this country today."

"I mentioned this to President Roosevelt last spring. I told him that even he, with his immense popularity—he was then at the height of his popularity—could not get this country into war. He said he knew this—but I doubted if he could realize the full extent of the peace sentiment."

"But we don't know when this sentiment may change. I think the feeling is strong for Ethiopia in this country at this time. We don't know when that feeling will change either."

"We don't know what will grow out of the Italo-Ethiopian war. If it spreads, God knows what will happen."

"As an illustration of how strong peace sentiment can change almost overnight, look at Great Britain and France today."

"Recently a member of the British House of Commons died. He was a Conservative. As he had been elected by a plurality of 14,000, his party felt confident of an easy victory in the by-election. Yet a Labor party candidate won by 5,000."

Pastors Speak For Jameson Food Drive

Ministers, From Pulpits Sunday, Ask Congregations For Support

Pulpit appeals in behalf of the "food donation days" for the Jameson Memorial hospital, set for October 18 and 19, were heard in most of the city's churches on Sunday. Pastors asked congregations to support the campaign which the Jameson Memorial Hospital Aid society is sponsoring.

Solicitation of foodstuffs has already been commenced although the collection itself will not come until the campaign days.

The hospital's supporting aid group has planned a thorough collection effort for the two days this year.

Renovate Church For Anniversary

Prepare St. John's Lutheran Church For Opening Of 40th Anniversary

ANNIVERSARY WILL OPEN OCTOBER 13

Great interest is being shown in preparation for the fortieth anniversary celebration at St. John's Lutheran church which will open next Sunday, October 13.

This week, while those in charge are completing the program plans, workmen are busily completing the renovation of the church building, near the corner of North street and Neshannock avenue.

There will be special programs not only on Sunday but on the Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday following (October 14, 15 and 16).

Extensive improvements are being made on the church building, inside and out, including painting, carpentry work, repairing of electric and heating systems, etc.

Congregation Started
It was on June 23, 1895, that 11 Lutherans assembled in the Y. M. C. A. and discussed the organization of an English Lutheran congregation. No formal organization was effected at that time, however, Rev. N. Scheffer, who was present, was invited to conduct services every two weeks for an indefinite time.

E. K. Gregory was chosen treasurer, pro tem to receive funds and pay the rent of the room in which services were held, and such other expenses as were necessary to conduct the meeting. An offering was taken amounting to eighty-five cents. Z. C. Amon was appointed secretary pro tem.

On September 15, 1895, the full morning service was used for the first time in the history of the mission.

On October 13, 1895, after the morning service the constitution recommended by the Pittsburgh Synod of the General Council, was read and adopted.

The first church council consisted of the following persons: Z. C. Amon, secretary; H. K. Gregory, treasurer; A. O. Speer, Michael Heckart, G. S. Oesterling and Henry Albert.

Charter members were: Henry Albert, Mrs. Henry Albert, Mrs. G. J. Albert, Z. C. Amon, Mrs. Z. C. Amon, A. R. Aukerman, J. G. Croft, Mrs. Mary Eckert, Louis G. Genkinger, Harriet Genkinger, Paul W. Genkinger, H. K. Gregory, Michael Heckart, Mrs. Elizabeth Heckart, Mrs. Philip Kerber, Mrs. Emma Kissinger, Louis Lindeman, Mrs. Ella Lindeman, Mrs. Elizabeth Mitchell, George S. Oesterling, Laura Oesterling, Joseph Redenbaugh, Harriet Rodenbaugh, James Seaman, Mrs. A. O. Speer and Mrs. J. W. Spencer.

The congregation was admitted to the Pittsburgh Synod in 1896 as the "First Evangelical Lutheran Church" but the name was given incorrectly. The correct name is given in the legal charter of June 8, 1897. Pastor Scheffer preached his closing sermon May 24, 1896, after giving a gratuitous service.

His successor was the Rev. Joshua H. Miller, Ph. D. The third pastor was Rev. J. H. Behrens. Both Rev. Miller and Rev. Behrens served the congregation long and faithfully.

Rev. F. E. Stough, the present pastor, followed Rev. Behrens. He commenced his pastorate on January 1, 1922, thirteen and a half years ago.

CHAIN STORE HEAD GIVES TO HOSPITAL

John S. Mack, of McKeesport, president of the G. C. Murphy Company's national chain of stores, has remembered with a $200,000 gift the services of the Indiana (Pa.) Hospital in his boyhood at his Brush Valley township home.

The gift to the hospital was in the form of a transfer of 1500 shares of stock in the Murphy Company in which he holds a controlling interest.

His other philanthropies include Westminster College and the McKeesport Hospital.

ADULATION FOR MICKEY COCHRANE

Oh, it's something to be noted; I, myself, have certain fame. Now and then a Pullman porter takes my bag and calls my name.

I've had total strangers greet me in a glad and friendly way. Though I still can pass unnoticed on the streets from day to day.

But for downright adulation and for worship from afar, I cite Janet's one brief sentence: "That is Mickey Cochrane's car!"

In a parking space it happened! There she took me by the hand in a manner most compelling, and she led, or truly dragged me by a force I couldn't stay.

To behold a bus like thousands that are turned out every day, and in reverential manner—Oh, you know how youngsters are! Said in tones that should have thrilled me: "That is Mickey Cochrane's car!"

Then she walked me around about it, as if eager to reveal the hood and radiator and the spokes of every wheel.

There she lingered, gazing fondly at the doors which on him close and the seat that Mickey sits on and the horn that Mickey blows.

Oh, I couldn't keep from thinking: It is fine to be a star. With a youngster proudly saying: "That is Mickey Cochrane's car!"

Well, at last we started homewards, but somehow it seemed to me that such loyal admiration must at times be a burden.

But the more I thought about it, since you're pinnacled so high, 'Twas my hope you'd keep such friendship till the day you come to die.

When your baseball days are ended, and you know how brief they are, May the kids still tell their daddies: "That is Mickey Cochrane's car!"

Chicago Reporter Dies In Ethiopian Capital From Fever

Death Overtakes War Correspondent As Italian Offensive Starts

(International News Service)
ADDIS ABABA, Oct. 7.—Dead because the biggest story of his life broke while he lay in a hospital, Wilfred Courtenay Barber, Chicago newspaper correspondent, was buried today in a lonely cemetery on the flower-blanketed hillside outside Addis Ababa.

The 31-year-old reporter was stricken with malaria after trips to Harar and Jijiga, as the first American war correspondent in East Africa.

But he was in the hospital the day Ethiopia's mobilization drums boomed and the day news of the bombing of Adowa, starting the Italian offensive was received.

"I've got to get well—I've got to cover the war," Barber said; and his worry over his illness while the war was going on is said to have hastened his death.

Police chronology for 48 hours ending at 3:30 p. m. October 6, six arrests on charges as follows: Violation of parking regulation 1, drunkenness 2, disorderly conduct 2 and drunkenness and disorderly conduct 1.

Mayor Charles B. Mayne and Chief of Police John F. Haven were interested spectators Saturday at the Johnstown-New Castle high school football game played at Johnstown.

BUST THAT COLD WIDE OPEN

Don't Merely Check It With Half-Way Measures!

Deal with a cold in earnest. Deal with it in seriousness. A cold is too fraught with danger to be taken lightly. Many a case of flu and pneumonia has started with nothing more than a "common cold."

Treat a cold for what it is—an internal infection. Therefore, internal treatment.

Treat a cold with a preparation made for colds and not a "cure-all." Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine is your answer to a cold.

It is a cold tablet, made expressly for the treatment of colds and not for all kinds of ailments.

It is internal in effect and it does four important things.

First, it opens the bowels, an important step in overcoming a cold.

Second, it checks the infection in the system, a vital step.

Third, it relieves the headache and fever.

Fourth, it tones the system and helps fortify against further attack.

These are the four effects a cold calls for and in Bromo Quinine you get them all in the form of a single tablet.

Play safe—make sure! The moment a cold threatens, go right to your druggist for a package of Grove's Bromo Quinine. Begin taking the tablets immediately, two every four hours, until relieved.

AROUND CITY HALL

Tonight will be the first time in many years that a whistle has been used as a warning to children under 16 years of age that they must leave the streets and go to their homes. The curfew whistle was decided upon by Chief of Police John F. Haven on account of the damage which is done yearly during Halloween pranks. Boys and girls not yet 19 years of age must be in their homes by 11:30 p. m.

City street sweeper was out early this morning cleaning the North Hill streets. On Tuesday and Friday nights the sweeper operates in the business district. According to Streets Director B. F. Butler it has time and again been impossible to clean downtown streets thoroughly on account of parked cars being locked.

Police chronology for 48 hours ending at 3:30 p. m. October 6, six arrests on charges as follows: Violation of parking regulation 1, drunkenness 2, disorderly conduct 2 and drunkenness and disorderly conduct 1.

Mayor Charles B. Mayne and Chief of Police John F. Haven were interested spectators Saturday at the Johnstown-New Castle high school football game played at Johnstown.

Peculiar, but nevertheless true, dogs have a penchant for visiting the police station. A hound, marked white and brown, strolled into the station house today and evoked the admiration of the police who like to hunt.

NEW CASTLE HIGH DEFEATS JOHNSTOWN 24-7

ENGs, DONEGAN, DeCAPRIO SCORE VICTORY POINTS

New Castle High School "Red Hurricane" Rises To Greatest Heights At Johnstown; Fight Back Gamely And Turn Tide Of Battle In Favor Of Ne-Ca-Hi; Eng Scores Twice On Sweeping End Runs; Donegan And DeCaprio Buck Ball Over; Crowd Of 8,000 At Game; First Defeat For Johnstown; New Castle's Record Is Unblemished; Probst, Crisci And Toscano Play Great Game.

ELEVEN fighting sons of New Castle, with the courage of Amazons, turned the tide of battle at Johnstown, Pa., Saturday in favor of the "Red Hurricane" after a shaky start in the first period, and walked off of Point stadium field with a 24 to 7 victory that rocked a powerful Johnstown high team to the depths, and left a crowd of perhaps 1,500 to 2,000 New Castle rooters delirious with joy.

Never has a New Castle high team shown such determination. Never has a red and black team shown such driving power. It was just as if someone had turned a flock of Joe Louis' loose on the football field. The New Castle boys hit hard once they got started. And no schoolboy team could have stood up under the power displayed by the Bridenbaugh machine as it steamrolled its way to the Johnstown goal line not once, but four times to make the victory a most decisive and concluding one.

Donegan And Eng Start

Out of the smoke of the battle raged in the valley surrounded by towering hills, young Eddie Donegan, Robert "Flash" Eng and Domenick "Gabby" DeCaprio arose to write their names indelibly on the minds of the crowd of almost 8,000 fans who had jammed their way into the stadium to see the schoolboys in their struggle for supremacy. One cannot forget the work of Harry "Kaiser" Toscano, Frank "Tarzan" Crisci and Charley Probst, these boys formed the bulwark of the New Castle defense.

Record Unblemished
New Castle has an unblemished record for the first four games of the season. A record made by victories over worthy opponents Brad-dock, Butler, Warren and Johnstown. The New Castle goal line was crossed for the first time this year. It was crossed only once. The Johnstown goal line uncrossed until Saturday saw four New Castle gridiron men scamper over it.

In the first period the New Castle fans had qualmish feelings as the Johnstown High team took a lead of 7 to 0, when Benya the fleet footed halfback running hard, took a punt from Mumford and eluded the entire New Castle team for a run of about 75 yards until he was dragged down on the 7-yard line by Eng and DeCaprio. In two plays Benya was over for the touchdown.

Bessemer Ties Scienceville In Game Saturday

Teams Battle To 12-12 Deadlock At Bessemer High Field

BESSEMER, Pa., Oct. 7.—Bessemer high school football team tied Scienceville high 12-12 here Saturday afternoon in a hotly contested football game. The inability of both teams to add extra points cost each the victory.

Four touchdowns were made, two by each school, but the conversion of extra points was very bad, not one of the tries being successful.

Murphy-Marshall Score
Murphy, the colored Bessemer fullback, scored the first touchdown of the game in the first period on a line plunge. In the second period Marshall, of Bessemer, intercepted a Scienceville pass and raced 60 yards through a broken field for the second marker for the Fredericksmen.

At the half Bessemer held a 12 to 0 lead. The Bessemer weakened in the second half and allowed the Ohioans to score two touchdowns, one in the third and one in the fourth periods.

Bessemer high will play Union high at the Union high field Friday afternoon. This is the feature game on the Bessemer card.

How Opponents Fared Saturday

New Castle High opponents for the remainder of the season did not fare so well over the week-end. Washington High the team that plays here Friday night handed Braddock High a 24 to 0 pasting on last Friday afternoon.

Chaney lost to South High of Youngstown Friday night 12 to 7. Martins Ferry folded up to Warren, Ohio, 12 to 6 last Friday night.

New Kensington was held to a scoreless tie by Arnold, Pa., High School. Charleroi High folded up before Monongahela High 13 to 0. Sharon High swamped Oil City High under a 34 to 0 defeat at Oil City, Pa.

No score on the Erie East game was obtainable, and of course New Castle lambasted Johnstown for a 24 to 7 loop.

New Castle Is Well Treated

Visit To Johnstown Is Most Enjoyable For New Castle Fans

MANY COURTESIES ARE EXTENDED

Whatever courtesies were extended Johnstown football fans a year ago when their team played here, were more than repaid in Johnstown Saturday. Johnstown officials, and the citizens joined in giving the visitors every courtesy possible and the New Castle visitors were insisting that the Johnstown-New Castle series of games should be continued.

Going into Johnstown the highway and streets were marked with direction cards which led to the stadium. Here the New Castle people found that an immense parking lot on the property of the Bethlehem Steel Company had been reserved for New Castle and there was no charge for parking.

The police officers were courteous and efficient, although at times their patience must have been sorely tried by a few fractious drunks from New Castle who wanted to fight.

One of the special officers at the game was Earl Young a New Castle veteran who is a member of the Roxbury Veterans COC camp about five miles from Johnstown. He met a lot of his friends in the New Castle delegation.

The game was played in the Middle Atlantic League baseball park and Johnstown fans will remember that game for a long time. They expected Johnstown to win and a time in the first period it looked as though they would.

In the second quarter New Castle bucked up and held Johnstown on even terms and then the intermission. Something happened during the intermission for in the third quarter New Castle played like eleven wildcats with burrs under their tails.

He had to be in the country could have withstood that terrific drive. They charged low and hard and fast, they tackled with deadly accuracy, in short they did everything well. Three touchdowns in one quarter was the answer and Johnstown's morale was badly shattered.

Naturally the backfield gets a lot of credit for the win, and they deserve plenty. Young mister Eng, the hero of the winged heels, gave Johnstown a couple of examples of football work that had them goggle-eyed. Donegan and DeCaprio added to the good work but it was passing out of the stellar work of the game we'd give all the squad one and then go back to the backfield with another one and include Crisci and Toscano the right tackle and end.

Getting around their end Saturday was like getting a gold certificate from the bank, it was that easy. Crisci seemed to have the idea that he had to be mixed up in every play, and came near doing it. Toscano was in six places at once seemingly and snared a couple of forward passes.

It was such a game as goes down in the book in capital letters that Bridenbaugh had drawn another rabbit out of the hat and the rabbit turned out to be a Missouri mule.

Washington Will Play Here Friday

Important Class AA Battle For New Castle "Red Hurricane" This Week

Friday night out under the maza lamps at Taggart Stadium a New Castle High School "Red Hurricane" football team will face one of the strongest of the Class AA foes in Washington High school.

The "Little Presidents" as they are called, have been undefeated in three starts this year and last week beat Braddock High 24 to 0. New Castle figures that Washington is the one big hurdle in the Class AA conference path.

Head Coach Phil Bridenbaugh had the New Castle team out for a light drill today. Bridenbaugh is well pleased with the return to the lineup of Eddie Donegan. This youngster looked good in the Johnstown game. Leroy Cox figures to be back in shape for the Washington High engagement.

Weather Cloudy In Detroit For Series Battle

(International News Service)

DETROIT, Oct. 7.—Slowly rising temperatures and increasing cloudiness was the weather promised for the sixth game of the world series today. There was no rain in sight, but government observers said there was a possibility of local showers tomorrow. Temperatures were expected to edge toward the 50 mark or above.

Union-Bessemer To Play Friday

Home-Coming Day At Union Friday, Gridders Will Meet Bessemer

Union High School football team will play Bessemer High Friday afternoon and the game has been designated as "Home Coming" Day for the Union graduates.

The game will start at 2:30 o'clock. A fine program is being arranged for the occasion. This is the big game on the Union and Bessemer schedule and it is bound to be hard fought.

Coaches Boyd and Rudolph will drill the Unionites hard this week. Coaches Fredericks, Thomas and Capuzzetto will give the Bessemer team tough workouts this week.

Some Surprises On Saturday

Upsets Mark Scores In Early Season Games On Many Gridirons

You may as well make up your mind to it, the present football season is going to be a season of upsets, surprises, and graying hair among coaches. Whether its the lateral pass, or the new style of water bucket, or the rules or the situation in Ethiopia, the season promises to be one that the wise betters will probably lose their shirts on.

Saturday's games added to the surprises of the week before and perhaps first prize today goes to the Crimson Tide of Alabama. Touted as being the probable loser of the game with George Washington university, Alabama almost tore the Washingtonians apart with a 39-0 score. Perhaps that tie with Howard a week ago was just one of those things.

In Pittsburgh, Notre Dame defeated Carnegie Tech, but not by what was expected of them. The score was 14-3 but the Irish showed a strength of attack that is going to be bad news for a lot of big teams before the turkey is carved.

Pitt uncovered a little more power than they did against Waynesburg and defeated Wash-Jeff 35-0. The Army wasn't so hot in defeating William and Mary 14-0, and Colgate won two games, defeating St. Lawrence (the conqueror of Cornell a week ago) 31-12, and the other team defeated Amherst, 12-0. Dartmouth seems to have another Green Wave of importance, defeating Vermont 47-0, Lehigh defeated Haverford 21-0. Navy romped with Mercer 27-0, and got this, Hobart won a ball game, taking a 7-0 win from Union.

That's the news, and on Friday night, the other champion loser, Knox, won its second straight for the season.

Yale had no trouble with New Hampshire, winning 34-0, and Harvard, playing its first game under Dick Harlow, took Springfield 20-0. Penn State opened with Lebanon Valley and won, 12-0, and the game of the day, Penn vs Princeton, ended in a 7-6 win for Princeton.

In the south Auburn defeated Tulane 10-0, North Carolina defeated Tennessee 38-13 and Duke played with Washington and Lee 26-0. Georgia beat Chattanooga 40-0 and Georgia Tech took an easy 32-0 win from Sewanee.

Rice had Duquesne of Pittsburgh at Houston, Texas, and defeated the Bluffites 27-7. Centenary defeated Arizona 14-7. Ohio State was the big team in the west but was held to the unexpectedly low score of 19-6 by Kentucky. Indiana defeated Centre 14-0, Illinois took Washington 28-6 and Michigan State rubbed salt in the Michigan wounds by pounding out a 25-6 win. Western Reserve added another defeat to Cornell by a 33-19 score. Mt. Union defeated Westminster 26-0, Southern Methodist defeated Tulsa U 14-0.

In the far west California got away to a good start against St. Mary's, winning by 10-0, and Washington defeated Santa Clara 13-0. Nebraska, looking like a heavy favorite in the west this year, defeated Iowa State 20-7.

A lot of surprisingly low scores, a few upsets and a little more experience for the big boys before they get into their real schedules.

Lion Football Team All-Pennsylvania

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Oct. 7.—For the second year in succession Penn State's football squad will be 98 per cent All-Pennsylvania. The exception both this season and last is Bill Perlman, a reserve guard from New York City.

Central Pennsylvania, the Scranton district in particular, claims the largest number of Lion gridirons. Five varsity players, Cherundolo, Silvano, Frank O'Hara, Owens, and Donato, are from this section and in addition Andrews, Salisbury, Jim O'Hara, and Sawchak, live in the Scranton district.

Score by periods:
Mount Union . . . 0 14 0 12-26
Touchdowns—Siskafosse 3, Shadle. Points after touchdown—Weiss (pass); Doehler (place kick).

The majority of our most troublesome weeds were imported from Europe or Asia, declares Paul C. Standley, writing in "House Beautiful." A few have been imported internationally, with good intentions which, unfortunately, were not fulfilled.

Liz N Captures Bird Dog Derby In Field Trials

Stan' Levanodoski, 10 Year Old Boy, Handles Coon Hound Winner

WAGNER SMASHES 50 CLAY PIGEONS

Cold, cloudy weather marred the third annual Field Day of the Lawrence County Sportsmen's association which was held Saturday at the Fair grounds. However, probably 10,000 spectators who braved the chilly atmosphere thoroughly enjoyed the versatile events which lasted from 9 a. m. until a curtain of darkness wrote finis to the annual entertainment for lovers of outdoor life.

The bird dog derby was won by Liz N. owned and handled by C. W. Nicholas. Connoquenessing, repeating her performance of 1934. Sunny June, owned and handled by John Watson, Slippery Rock was second and Gay Jim, owned and handled by Frank Hoyt, New Castle was third.

One of the bright features of the day was the Coon dog trials, especially by the handling of Single Traffic, by Stan Levanodoski, a 10-year-old boy of Youngstown. The boys father was unable to be present and sent his son with his dogs to the meet. The chap handled Single Traffic so well he was a brace winner and was first to tree and second on the line. Another of his dogs, Rock, came in second in a brace.

In the Bird dog derby, Liz N. a Setter, handled her birds fine and honored her owner and handler by winning first place. Sunny June also showed nice going, not as wide as some, but a very good dog, while Hoyt's, Gay Jim demonstrated she was a merry going derby but was unfortunate to not get on game. The trials were run on ringnecks.

In the All Age, Red Stone handled by G. M. Pierce was a very smooth hard hunting little Setter. She had three finds. (Points) which he handled nicely, one of which was under rather trying circumstances. Second place went to North Liberty Bob, a very nice Pointer, who had one good find which he handled clean. Pay Day, a sweet travelling little Setter, owned by T. H. Kisor, this city rather short in range, found and handled a bird under very difficult conditions.

Barry proved the class in the Puppy stake of the Springer Spaniel trial with Timber, a local dog winning second. Zippe took first in the Derby and Timber repeated in this event. No local dogs placed in the All Age.

Joe Mongrone's Belle landed second place in Class 1 of the Beagles 13 inch Derby. All of the other three finds.

Highlights Of Grid Battle At Johnstown

New Castle's special train left New Castle at 8 o'clock on Saturday morning and arrived in Johnstown at 11 o'clock. Just three hours. C. J. Callahan of the Pennsylvania R. R. was in charge of the special. There were about 250 aboard.

Following the game the special left Johnstown at 7:30 o'clock and pulled into New Castle at 10:30 o'clock, another three hour run, but a much noisier run and a happier crowd over the stunning victory 24 to 7 over the Johnstownians.

They have a fine stadium at Johnstown for football. There are plenty of seats, but the field could stand some grass. It is a baseball field, and used by the Johnstown team of the Mid-Atlantic league. There were plenty of vacant seats even with 8,000 hardy fans in the stands.

By special train, automobiles and probably bicycles with New Castle must have had 1,500 or 2,000 fans at the game. A nice turnout and the football boys appreciated the support given them by the home-towners.

The fine New Castle High band had the whole stage to itself at the end of the first half and under the supervision of Joe Replegle, gave the Johnstown fans and the New Castle fans a lot of fine music and intricate drills. The band got a big hand from the crowd. The Johnstown High band had the show to itself here last year.

The many fisticuff exhibitions that took place were enjoyable from the confines of the spacious Johnstown press-coop, but probably not so joyous for those participating. There was a near riot after the game as the over-zealous New Castle fans tried to rip the goal posts asunder.

Chicago Cubs Win Game As Klein Homers

Swat Into Right Field Bleachers In Third Inning Uppers Tigers

LONGIE WARNEKE FORCED TO RETIRE

WRIGLEY FIELD, Chicago, Oct. 6.—Charles "Chuck" Klein of the Chicago Cubs, delivered the home run punch to the Detroit Tigers in the third inning yesterday afternoon and the Cubs went ahead to win 3 to 1 and thus stay in the fight for the championship.

The series will be resumed in Detroit today. The Tigers have won three games and the Cubs have won two victories, both of them being credited to Lonnie Warneke.

Warneke Injured
The victory yesterday cost the Cubs the services of Lonnie Warneke as the big Arkansas pitcher twisted a muscle in his shoulder in the sixth inning and gave way to Billy Lee. The Tigers found Warneke too tough in the first six frames and had but three hits, Lee allowed four in the last three innings, and got himself in a hole in the ninth, allowing a run to cross the plate.

Klein was subbing for the injured Freddy Lindstrom in right field for the Cubs. There is a strong possibility that his subbing days are over. He has delivered in both line for the "Schoolboy" Rowe was the Detroit hope for the game Sunday, but Rowe was not as effective as the first time he faced the Cubs and gave eight hits. Billy Herman opened the third with a screaming triple to deep left field, and then Klein stepped up and smote his homer for the lead that brought the Cubs through.

Tigers Threatened
Things looked bad for Lee in the ninth when the Tigers had men on third and first with no outs and Fox singled to score but he retired Rogell, Walker and Clifton in order and the game was over.

Manager Mickey Cochrane announced today that Tommy Bridges would have to go back to the firing line for the Tigers. Bridges having won the second game of the series in Detroit. Just who manager Grimm would select for the Cubs firing line was unknown, although he probably will be Root or French, with Henshaw and Kowalik rested up and ready for relief duty.

Shove War News Into Background

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—The stock market steadied today as Wall Street relegated the Italo-Ethiopian war into the background.
Gains at the opening were followed by scattered selling, which brought slight irregularity.
Copper shares all sold at new highs at the start. Profit-taking cut gains and some of the metals like Cerro de Pasco.
Oils pointed higher. Socony Vacuum, however, was under pressure, duplicating its 1935 low, and this held the group in check.
Chrysler rose over a point and other auto shares showed small changes. Fractional gains ruled in the steels.
Utilities were steady. Rails were stronger, Atchafalaya rising a point and N. Y. Central and Pennsylvania showing better demand.
Wheat lost a cent a bushel, and cotton eased. Bonds were firm. Foreign currencies were better against the dollar.

Solemn Novena
Starts TuesdayMorning Mass And Evening Service For Nine Tuesdays At St. Vitus
Church

To do honor to St. Anthony and to prepare for the Feast of the Immaculate Conception which will occur on December 8, a morning mass and evening service will be conducted tomorrow and for eight more consecutive Tuesdays at St. Vitus church.
Every Tuesday morning at 8:30 o'clock there will be a mass for members of St. Anthony's union and for those people taking part in the solemn novena.
Every Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock there will be a service of the solemn novena, conducted by the pastor of the church, the Rev. Fr. N. DeMita, and his assistant, the Rev. Fr. Alfred Henke. Father Henke is to deliver the sermon tomorrow night on "The Life of St. Anthony." Appropriate sermons will be heard every Tuesday night.
The solemn novena will be brought to a close with the Feast of the Immaculate Conception on December 8.
Large crowds are expected to take part in the services, as St. Vitus is the only church in this locality which has a relic of St. Anthony. Many visitors from out of the city are expected. The relic will be placed in a beautifully decorated shrine. At the close of each sermon there will be benediction and kissing of the relic.

Governor Assures
Needy Of Relief
During OctoberNo Curtailment Of Relief During Month, Says State
Executive

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Oct. 7.—While re-employment in private industry and WPA combined to continue decreasing the relief load, Gov. George H. Earle today assured needy Pennsylvanians there would be no curtailment of relief during October.
The executive's statement ended all fears of Pennsylvania's relief population of 1,598,925 persons that the dole would be curtailed during the month. A final payment of $2,814,000 in inheritance taxes from the Dorrance estate, the governor said, would be diverted to relief to make up the shortage in funds resulting from the federal government's slash in the October allotment.
The more are dropped
The weekly report of director Robert L. Johnson, meanwhile, showed that 4,840 more cases, or 22,739 persons, were dropped from relief during the week ending September 28. This was the largest single week's reduction this year.
Of those dropped, Johnson said 9,415 cases found reemployment in private industry and 1,397 cases were transferred to WPA. Applications for relief increased during the week, however, as cold weather began to set in, the number of families asking to go on the dole totaling 11,763. Expenditures for relief during the week were $3,251,872, a reduction of $68,970 or 2.1 per cent from the previous week.

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 7.—Coach "Tiger" Walton's Beaver Falls High grid machine smashed out a 25-7 victory over Ellwood City High at Lincoln Field Saturday afternoon before a Home Coming Day crowd of about 8,000.

As predicted it was the largest crowd since the New Castle game of 1925. It was ideal football weather. All the available seats and standing space were occupied. An interesting and colorful program was carried out to mark the occasion in which the crowd found much delight, even though they were disappointed in the outcome of the game.

Flashy Game
The score does not indicate what a splendid game it was to watch. Ellwood was by no means humbled in defeat. On the contrary the Schillmen were glorious in defeat. The Beaver Falls Tigers scored two touchdowns and a field goal as a result of blocked kicks, one over the goal line and the other on the four yard line. The game featured a fine offense by both teams. It was evident that both teams were primed for the game and used every resource at their command in an effort to gain victory. The Tigers displayed some "executed" laterals that proved fruitful. The Schillmen retaliated in a sensational manner. They had shovel passes, forwards with laterals, and once again thrilled the crowd with some runs from their effective spread formation. They even pulled the "old statue of liberty" play for an appreciable gain and also displayed two clever plays from punt formation. Three times the locals were the victims of bad breaks after marching the ball within scoring distance.

Captain Buck Hartnett, of the victors and little "Russia" Funari of the locals held the limelight throughout the game for their respective teams. Each was a constant threat throughout the game. Hartnett figured in every important drive and thrice himself had crossed the goal line. Funari proved a consistent ground gainer for the locals and was held stopped for a yard under five yards. He did not get into the fray until the second quarter and then things certainly did pick-up for the locals.

Hartnett Runs 56 Yards
There was plenty of action shortly after the kickoff. Beaver Falls had received and after an exchange of punts was stopped at left end by Captain Kraynak for no gain. On second down, Hartnett picked up five yards at the other end and then on the next play Veltri scored a first down on a reverse. Hartnett hit right tackle for seven yards and Lonnert gained one on a spinner. On third down, like a bolt of lightning Hartnett went through a big hole at left tackle, headed for the sidelines and raced 56 yards for the first touchdown. Veltri missed the try for extra point from placement.

Another outstanding play in this period was a pass from Veltri to Hartnett good for 40 yards, which brought the ball on Ellwood's 18. The local's braced here and took the ball on downs and immediately punted out of danger.
The victor's second score came early in the second quarter. On fourth down Hartnett punted from his own 44 to the Ellwood 11 where left guard Bill Young crashed into Kraynak for two yards. Then Bogosky went to punt, but Piccinni, right end, blocked it, which was recovered by Friedlander on Ellwood's 7. Lonnert was stopped at left guard for no gain. Hartnett crashed through center for three yards and was stopped at left tackle for no gain. On last down he skirted right end for the score. Veltri passed to Friedlander for the extra point. Score 13-0 For Beaver Falls.

Funari Runs 50 Yards
Funari at this time entered the affray for Luxenberg. Young received Veltri's kickoff on his own 20 and returned it to the 32. Bogosky on a fake play tossed a short pass to Hughes for a gain of four yards. Ellwood went into their spread formation and Funari raced around right end for a gain of 50 yards for a first down on Beaver Falls' 20 yard line, where he was downed by Hartnett. Young was stopped at left guard and on the next play tossed a pass to Hughes who lateraled to Bogosky which gave a gain of eight yards. Scapellite made a yard through right guard. Then Funari made it a first down on Beaver Falls' four yard line around right end. On the next play Scapellite fumbled and Treiber recovered on his own eight yard line. Just before the half ended Funari again skirted left end for a gain of 14 yards.

Blocked Punt Scores
After the kickoff in the third quarter Hartnett was forced to punt on fourth down from his own 48. He kicked away from the safety men and the ball rolled down to the Ellwood five yard line where it was downed by Groom. Young was thrown for a two yard loss at left tackle. Lateral to Lonnert which was good for a gain of 15 yards. On the next play Hartnett went around right end for five yards and a touchdown. Veltri's placement kick was blocked. Score Beaver Falls 25, Ellwood 0.

Ellwood Scores
Ellwood again received and after an exchange of punts the local started a real offensive against the new recruits sent in by Coach Walton. Funari was downed on the Beaver Falls 43 yard line after receiving Killian's punt. He then picked up nine yards at right tackle. Bogosky was stopped at right end for no gain. Ellwood again went into their famed spread formation and on a cleverly executed reverse Funari raced 40 yards before he was brought down by Spano.
Young picked up five yards around left end, and Bogosky 3 on a "statue of liberty" play from Young. Young was thrown for a ten yard loss in attempting to circle around the ball on Young to Funari was incomplete. Scapellite gained three yards at left guard. Then Young passed to Hazen for 17 yards. This was just short of a first down. Bogosky punted out to the Beaver Falls 35. Young then hit right guard for nine yards. Then Young passed to Hughes who lateraled to Funari which resulted in a gain of 25 yards. Young crashed center for two yards, and then passed to Hughes for three. Rev. R. H. Little Is TransferredProminent Local M. E. Minister To Take Charge At Vandergrift, Pa.REV. O. B. EMERSON
APPOINTED HERE

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 7.—Rev. R. H. Little, pastor of the local Methodist Episcopal church for the past eight years, will cease his pastoral duties immediately according to an announcement today. Rev. Little has been transferred to the Methodist Episcopal church at Vandergrift, Pa.
This was the result of the annual session of the Pittsburgh conference of the M. E. church at Wilkinsburg, Pa., during last week. The transfer was made by Bishop A. W. Leonard. Rev. O. B. Emerson, pastor of the Westview M. E. church, Pittsburgh, has been transferred here.

The transfer comes not only as a surprise to the local congregation but to the community as a whole. Rev. Little was one of the foremost citizens of the community and was deeply respected. He was not only active in the religious field but also in civic life. He will be sorely missed in the community. The transfer is a promotion for Rev. Little and although local people are sorry to lose him they are proud of him at the same time.

Rev. Emerson, who will occupy the pulpit here Sunday, is a graduate of Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn., and Boston University School of Theology. He has also held charges at Irwin and Indiana, Pa., before coming to Westview. Rev. Little will move to Vandergrift with his family early next week.

Home Coming Day
Colorful EventCrowd Of 8,000 Packs Lincoln Field For Game
And Program SaturdayCORONATION AND BAND PROMINENT

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 7.—Home Coming Day for the Ellwood high alumni at the Ellwood City-Beaver Falls football game at Lincoln field last Saturday was everything it was cracked up to be. A crowd of 8,000 including a large delegation from Beaver Falls, enjoyed the game and proceedings.

It was the largest turnout of fans since the 1925 game with New Castle high, and it proved to be a grand reunion of former Ellwood high graders and athletes as well as graduates. The local high school band appeared on the field before game time in their new snappy uniforms and put on some clever drills with music. They conducted the flag raising ceremonies at 2:45. The crowd stood at attention as the national anthem was played.

The coronation of the home coming queen then took place. Miss Velma Volovich, pretty senior A class secretary, as the queen was ushered down the center of the field by eight attendants. They were Joan Beagle, Ruth Haswell, Edith Kirkham, Lorain McLaughlin, Emma Bianco, Thelma Atkinson, Velma Marshall and Nilda Fontaine. She was presented with a beautiful bouquet of flowers by the vice-president of the senior A class, Harry McCurdy. The entire party was then ushered to reserve seats in the student section.
The band performed again between halves, and then the author of the new school song, Paul Carling, was introduced. The composition of Jack Stoughton, a member of the sophomore A class, was also acknowledged at this time. Carling sang his over the public address system and it was to the tune of the "Notre Dame Victory March". The student body joined in the second time he sang. The announcer for the day's program and football game was Fred Robuck, reporter for The News.

Short Session Of Motion Court Held

Distribution Of Samuel E. Elliott Estate As Shown By Final Account Ordered

Judges R. L. Hildebrand and James L. Chambers held a session of court this morning at which motions and petitions were presented and the trial list for the October 14 session of common pleas court was checked, and the dates fixed on which the different cases on the list will be heard.

In the estate of the late Samuel E. Elliott, deceased, the account of the Fidelity Trust company was approved and distribution ordered. The account showed total assets of $83,962.46; total credits, $14,661.40 and a balance of $69,301.06. After providing for the payment of a balance of $1,320.48 inheritance tax and the addition of money received since the account was made out, there was a balance of $70,667.40 for distribution. This was made up largely of stocks, bonds and mortgages which were distributed in kind, together with cash to Letitia Elliott.

The resignation of Anna E. Phillips, a member of the election board in the tenth district of the second ward, was accepted.

In the case of the commonwealth against Joseph Baltrosz a petition asking for the modification of a court order directing him to pay his wife $3 per week was presented. The petition set forth that since the order was made his wife secured a divorce and married a man named Wasyluk. Petitioner had also remarried and has a wife and six children to support. A rule was issued on Mrs. Wasyluk to show cause why the petition should not be granted.

If you are a member, communicate with your director, telling her how many new members you will secure as a birthday present for the guild. If you are not enrolled, please consider this a personal invitation to join. Get in touch with Mrs. Fred W. Sontum, president of the New Castle branch, who will gladly give full information about the Needlework Guild of America, whose mission is to keep alive a kindly way of permitting those who have to help others who have not.

Parent-Teacher Associations

EAST BROOK P. T. A.

The East Brook Parent Teachers Association held their regular meeting Thursday evening, October 3, with Jesse Carr, president, in charge. Reports were given by the various committee heads during the business procedure, and Mrs. Grace McCreary was elected as delegate to the meeting of the Southwestern District to be held in Pittsburgh.

A program followed, in charge of Mrs. Florence McCreary, when several musical selections were given by the Harlansburg Chorus. Charles B. Randall of New Castle, was introduced as the guest speaker, and he gave an interesting talk on "Rare Books" with several unusual exhibits. He displayed a page from the Gutenberg Bible; a Sanscrit prayer book and a copy of a rare edition of Riley's poems. Only six copies of this particular edition were printed, this being done by an old-fashioned hand press and bound by hand, with tooled leather binding.

Unemployed To Have Conference

Representatives of unemployed groups will meet in Harrisburg on October 10 with State Administrator Edward N. Jones to discuss the problems that have arisen in the WPA projects. Wages, transportation, work clothes, gloves, safety appliances, accident compensation, reporting to work on rainy or snowy days and collective bargaining.

The conference will be similar to the one held on September 17-18 with Robert L. Johnson, state relief director. A meeting will be held this evening at 8 o'clock in the CWA hall on South Croton avenue to discuss ways and means of sending delegates from New Castle to the Harrisburg meeting.

PLAN COLORS

If you plant the colors of plants growing in your window boxes they will be prettier. Coral pink geraniums are pretty combined with petunias, so are geraniums and blue forget-me-nots. Pure white flowers and trailing ivy trailing over the box edges make another pretty picture.
